E-DISCOVERY AND CONFLICT RESOLUTION EXPERIENCE

Daniel Garrie is not only an accomplished attorney, he also holds two degrees in technology – a rare combination which makes him an exceptional neutral in disputes involving the convergence of law and technology. Mr. Garrie is Principal and Managing Partner of FSRDG, a high-end independent consulting firm with a track record of reducing costs, mitigating legal risks and streamlining the global E-Discovery process. FSRDG provides both corporations and law firms with solutions for effectively managing information in large-scale, complex litigation and investigations, or regulatory inquiries. FSRDG integrates legal, technical, and industry expertise when working on any project.

Mr. Garrie is also in-house E-Discovery Counsel for Digital Reef (formerly Auraria Networks). He was previously a principal and Director of E-Discovery at the leading global consulting firm of CRA International, where he specialized in the synchronization of policies with information technologies and related best practices to ensure legal compliance for enterprises worldwide. Prior to joining CRA, Mr. Garrie was a vice president of LegalTech Group where he provided subject matter expertise and project management in engagements pertaining to E-Discovery, vendor selection, litigation readiness, digital privacy, and digital information risk management.
